THE MAGIC RABBIT BY HELEN D. LEWIS

One of the best lessons I ever learned back in the Good Old Days came about because of a bunny rabbit.

It was Easter, April 17, 1938, and I was 4 years old. We had just moved to the country the week before. I thought I was in Heaven, for spring had come early that year, bringing on abundance of blooming daffodils, flowering quince and bridge wreath.

I loved the little farm that my parents had bought. It didn't matter that the house wasn't much to look at, or that Mom papered the walls with newspapers so they'd at least be clean. Nor did I mind the bare floors that she scrubbed with a broom and bleach water. I loved that old house with the wisteria vine growing up the side. I never liked the new house that replaced it two years later nearly as well. Old houses seem to have a personality of their own.

Anyway, that year there wasn't enough money to buy me an Easter basket. Mom worried about me being disappointed because all I was getting for Easter was colored eggs.

On Easter morning when I got up, Mom told me to wait about going out to hunt my Easter goodies; there had been a drizzle the night before and she wanted the grass to dry a little bit before I went out.

I was sitting in the kitchen looking out through one of the little panes that formed the big window when a rabbit came hopping through the yard and down past the grape arbor. I couldn't believe my eyes—the Easter Bunny! I yelled, "Mommy, Mommy, he's here! The Easter Bunny is here! See?"

There was no holding me back then, I ran out the door and went in the direction from which the bunny had come. As luck would have it, that was the area where most of my beautiful eggs were hidden. Mom, still fearing I would be disappointed, explained that the bunny had probably run out of baskets before he got this far out in the country. Who cared! I was on cloud nine! I was the only person I knew who has seen the real Easter Bunny.

Now, after 60 years, I still remember that day, for it was my best Easter ever. Maybe he wasn't the real Easter Bunny, but that little rabbit worked magic for me that day and in later years as well. Seeing that little bunny meant more to me than any expensive basket ever could.

In later years, when I would get to fretting about not being able to buy an expensive gift for someone, I would remember that Easter and remind myself that is not the price of the gift that is important, but the enjoyment that it brings.

St. Patrick's Day party

The Houston Deaf Senior Citizens dressed up in green to help celebrate their annual St. Patrick's Day party at M.M.S.C. on March 11. The party drew a crowd of 52 persons who had a lot of fun and food too. Two judges, Z. X. Curry and Jack Richard selected Nellie Bishop and Clyde Hays as the winners of the "Most green Outfits". Clyde was clever enough to paint his old shoes green to match his outfit. Party chairperson Arlene Benham did a wonderful job making plans for the party, and she thanked everyone for their wonderful cooperation in bringing covered dishes to the event. Lillian Morgenson and Marie Hays won the door prizes at the party. Everyone had a lot of fun there.

By Pauline Garrett and Jeanette Mortzfeldt

Our mother Mrs. Helen Padgett just celebrated her 90th birthday last month. She said she could not believe she reached that age, as she felt as if she still were 75 years old. Jeanette surprised both her mother and sister by flying to visit them to help celebrate her birthday. She brought a package of gifts and birthday card. She planned at the last minute to make the trip. Another big surprise for Helen Padgett was when she received a nice birthday card from the White House in Washington D.C. How about that? Really neat!

I am so sure that you will be interested to hear what Paul Fincher is doing at present. He started an interpreter business here. My business name is "COMMUNICATION ACCESS INTERPRETING SERVICES" Short is C.A.I.S. Jerry Lee from Huntsville and I start the business as partners. It is doing fine. Paul still works for Bryan I.S.D. full time and work at C.A.I.S. parttime. Congratulations to you Paul Fincher and Jerry Lee!!

Paul's mother Virginia Andrews Mead had surgery again this time on her breast for cancer. The doctor thinks they got all the cancer! Paul as been deeply praying for her. Thank God! he has really blessed us. She seems to be doing fine.

She really needs to get out of the house more often. She really needs her deaf friends to call her. Virginia, I pray that you are feeling much better and hope to see you in the near future.

Paul still lives in a small town named Hearne about 20 miles from Bryan. He has one acre of land with many, many trees behind his house. He enjoys living out in very quiet neighborhood.

We all wish Virginia a speedy recovery. She would certainly love to receive get-well cards and notes from her friends. Her address is 208 N. Edgewood, Houston, Texas 77011-2232.—Jean Nellie Bishop lost her sister, Dolores C. Franks who passed away March 8, 1999. She was 87 years old and had two sons. Our deepest sympathy goes to Nellie.

" A Scary but Funny Story"

Gene Harkness would like to tell a very scary but funny story which really happened to him. For many years he was a member of the painters union local 130. In 1951 he was offered a job to paint a large two-story funeral home. During that job, every day he said "good morning" to the superintendent, manager and secretary of the funeral home until he made friends with them.

One day the manager asked Gene if he would like to drive a funeral car, but he hesitated, because, he was not used to the idea of driving a car with a dead body in it. But the manager urged him to do it. Before he put on his nice suit and tie, he wanted to express respect to a "dead body" in a coffin by removing his cap and put it on his chest. What happened was that the "dead body" suddenly sat up in the coffin to look at him. Gene was so scared that he actually frozen from head to toe. In fact he was frighting that he was unable to scream. Then the manager had a big laugh, because it was not really a "dead body but a joke being played on him. Gene was thankful that he was young enough not have a possible heart attack when it happened to him.

When Gene went home after it happened, he was very furious at the joke, because he did not think it was not funny at all. His wife Jean noticed how angry he was for being fooled that way. Then she suddenly had an idea on what Gene could do in return of the joke.

The next day Gene went to look for the manager, but he could not find him What he did was to put on a very evil-looking Halloween mask with hopes of scaring him. But when he opened the door, it was the secretary who saw Gene with the hideous mask and then let out a loud scream with fright. The superintendent rushed to help her, and she pointed to the door. When he opened it, he saw Gene with that frightful mask. Everyone had a good laugh. Gene was surprised that he was not fired. It was too bad that he failed to scare the superintendent or a manager but only the secretary. Everyone was a good sport and laughed at the whole thing.

To this day , Gene had never forgotten that hilarious story when he was really frozen to death upon seeing that "dead body" rising to life again and that the secretary had a bad fright upon seeing his mash.

That was really no April Fool story, but a real one, Interesting, isn't it ?

From Opal Piercy

Hi Everyone - I've missed all of you the last few months. I feel as I'm a quinine pig since the doctors have been running so many tests on me. They all are normal so I still have a few more tests to go. I'll be so glad when they are all over. I really don't feel bad. I have good days and bad days and can't drive for six months as I have dizzy spells sometimes.

I do want to thank you for your cards prayers and what you did for me during my sickness.

And thanks to all of you who helped with the food after Mildred Owens Funeral. We were glad we could open our home to the family and some friends. I felt like a Queen Sitting and watching so many of you helping. Thanks again and God bless you all. Sue and Tony appreciated what we did for them. We will really miss Mildred.

There was a surprise 26th Wedding anniversary party for Curtis and myself at the home of Faye Sims' on February 14. We received some nice gifts. A meat tray, sandwiches, nuts and scalloped border cake were served. We played the Mexican Train game. What happened was that we were not aware of the party when we went to visit the Sims. It was a big surprise for both of us. Everyone had a great and enjoyable time.

Vernon and Joan Pate also moved, this time from Austin to Pflugerville which is a suburb of Austin. In the past the Pates did not have enough outside scenery to look at. Now they enjoy watching out through large windows. They are staying in the mobile house of Joan's daughter. Mildred Barnett also moved from an apartment near South Congress Avenue to another part of the city. She is looking forward to moving to La Vista, the retirement community for deaf persons in San Marcos. Ruby Klebery will move to La Vista in June, and so will Mary and Tom Case.

J. C. Morris, J. T. Jacobs and Larry Evans still go golfing as often as they can for their recreation.

There was a surprise birthday party for Ruby Kleberg on Feb. 28, 1999 to help celebrate her 75th birthday at Fairview Baptist Church of the Deaf. 43 attended to help her celebrate it. A covered dish affair was held at the same time. Delicious refreshments were served. There was another surprise birthday party for Dorothy Hays King on March 12, 1999 at her retirement places, Englewood Estates. About 30 persons attended to wish her a happy 85th birthday.

AMARILLO DAILY NEWS - FEBRUARY 22, 1999 FAMILY AWAITS AUTOPSY RESULTS

At about 12:05 a.m. Saturday, someone called police and reported hearing shots in northeast Amarillo neighborhood, an Amarillo Police Department release said.

At about 3 a.m., a grandson discovered Henry and Emily Whitfield dead and James Whitfield shot at the couple's residence at 3919 N.E. 33rd Ave.

Police found James Whitfield lying in the yard with pistol near him, the release said. Potter County Justice of the Peace Jim Tipton arrived at the scene and pronounced Henry and Emily Whitfield dead. James Whitfield went by ambulance to Northwest Texas Hospital where he was pronounced dead about 4:20 a.m., the release said.

Tipton said the couple suffered multiple gunshot wounds and James Whitfield had a single gunshot wound to the head.

Kim Whitfield described a family that revolved around Henry and Emily Whitfield "We were a very close - knit, very loving, very large family.", she said.

"He was very sane." she said. "He was attending college. He was very intelligent. He was more than that."

The Rev. Darrell Bonjour, minister to the deaf at Paramount Baptist Deaf Church, said he had known James Whitfield and his family for a long time. James, who was deaf, attended the church.

"All of us are grieving." Bonjour said. the deaf community, in itself, is grieving.

"James was very kind, very tender - hearted. I can tell you, he loved his family. He was the kind of man that would do anything for a friend. I think that's the hardest thing that people have to deal with.

"James loved his parents. He helped them do everything—and they helped him, too. But I mean, he was very protective of his parents".

Finice Taylor said James Whitfield attended Texas School for the Deaf in Austin, Texas and he left school in 1969's or 70's.

GOOD BYE WINTER-----HELLO SPRING

1st Time in TSD History!

.....ALUMNI REUNION IN JUNE.....

The Texas School for the Deaf Alumni Association (TSDAA) usually had its annual major event during the football homecoming weekend. The problem was that the TSD homecoming had expanded until it included several other kinds of activities, such as a carnival, volleyball game, etc. That was the reason for TSDAA not to have sufficient time for its business meeting and election of officers during the last homecoming weekend.

So the TDAA officers and board members voted to start its first annual reunion which will take place on June 4-6, 1999 on the TSD campus. The new event will be from Friday morning to Sunday noon.

Registration and socialization will be on Friday morning, June 4. A tour of TSD campus will be planned for Friday afternoon. Friday night will be reserved for all individual class reunions. The president of each class is responsible in arranging his/her own class reunion in the local restaurants or any other place. Saturday morning, June 5, will be allotted for the business meeting and election of officers and board members of TSDAA. Activities for Saturday afternoon, Saturday evening and Sunday morning will be announced later.

Cottages will be available for lodging for $10.00 for one night per person. We will have enough space for only 86 persons. Men and women will sleep separately in assigned cottages. There will be no meals served in the TSD dining room, but we will try to have an arrangement for meals which will be announced later. The meetings and dining will be done in the Middle School gymnasium.

Those who would like to spend one or two nights in the cottages are encouraged to write letters for reservation to:
